Ceremonies of the 22d, at Charleston, S.C.

The interesting and imposing ceremony of laying the corner stone of a monument to the memory of the late Mr. Turnbull, took place at Charleston, agreeably to appointment, on the 22d. A long procession moved from the West end of Broad street, to the cemetery of St. Philip's church, where reposed the remains. The ceremony of laying the corner stone was performed by Governor Hayne, accompanied with appropriate remarks. In the stone was deposited a case containing copies of the "Crisis" and other works of Mr. Turnbull. The Hon. John. C. Calhoun, having just arrived in the city, reached the cemetery but a few moments before the ceremony was performed. From the cemetery, the assembly moved in procession to the church, where, after divine service by the Rev. Dr. Gadsden, an eulogium on the character of the deceased was pronounced by Col. Hamilton.—In the evening, a numerous assemblage of the Free Trade and State Rights party, including a great number of ladies, convened at the Circus, to testify their gratitude to the Hon. J. C. Calhoun for the part he had taken in promoting the doctrines of Nullification.

On his entering the house (says the Charleston Post,) the audience rose and received him with the most overwhelming bursts of applause. When this subsided, Captain James Lynch introduced Mr. C. to the Hon. Henry Deas, as Chairman of the Meeting, who addressed Mr. C. in a short but eloquent and impassioned speech, marked, at the same time, by great dignity of tone and manner, in which he expressed to him at once the gratitude of the Free Trade and State Rights Party, for his eminent services in the great cause of Constitutional Liberty, and the high satisfaction they felt in having an opportunity of personally testifying to him their very cordial esteem and unfeigned respect.

Mr. Calhoun then rose and replied in a speech of about an hour, that fully realized the high wrought expectations of all who heard him. His appearance and manner were highly dignified—his voice strong and distinct—while the several points in his speech took with powerful effect, as was evinced by loud and prolonged peals of applause. In adverting to the effects produced by Nullification, he observed, that up to the time of our State interposition, the Tariff had been regularly progressing, but subsequent to that period, its advocates, in lieu of further accession to their gains, were now content to hold on to the plunder they had already acquired. The American System, though not actually dead, had received a mortal wound at the hand of the father of that System himself.—In proof of this, he adverted to the addresses made to Mr. Clay, in the course of his recent Eastern tour, and his replies to those addresses, in which the American system was not once named—no, not once! This was ominous! There was certainly a magic in Nullification, for it had effected, in a few short months, that which the united efforts of the whole Southern States, in the shape of petition, remonstrance, and protest, had failed to accomplish.

Mr. Calhoun then remarked, in alluding to the attempted coercion of this State, that it amounted to an actual revolution in our form of Government. He was asked, when Secretary of War, why we did not pursue the same plan in reference to our Fortifications, that was practised in Europe—that, namely, of building their forts in the immediate vicinity of their towns? To this he replied, that in Europe there was a twofold object to be accomplished, the repelling of foreign invasion, and the keeping in awe of their own subjects. With us there was but a single object, that of repelling the invasion of a foreign enemy. And shall we now be told that no revolution has taken place in the form of our government, when the guns of our forts, instead of being pointed outwards against our foes, are turned inwardly upon our own citizens? Mr. C. observed, that the Union, upon equal principles,—upon the principles of the Constitution—he esteemed as one of the greatest of blessings, but a union, upon the principles of the Force Bill, one of the greatest of calamities. While the Bill continued to pollute our statute Book, we enjoy but the empty name, with none of the rights of freemen.

After Mr. Calhoun had taken his seat, a call was made for Governor Hayne, who accordingly addressed the assembly. In the course of his remarks, he stated, that "after all the outcry that had been raised by our political opponents about the ruinous increase of taxation that would be incurred to meet the expenses of Nullification, not only would our citizens not be taxed one cent beyond the usual assessment,—but there actually remained upwards of fifty thousand dollars in the Treasury, over and above the current expenditures—to be disposed of in any manner that the Legislature may determine on."

From Bell's London Weekly Messenger of Oct. 20.

RUSSIA, HER PROJECTS & STRENGTH.

Nobody can doubt the ambitious strides which Russia is making towards the east of Europe, and her intention of appropriating to herself, at the first opportunity, the tottering columns and splendid fragments of the Ottoman empire; but surely there is not much danger to be feared from this power in the west of Europe; her power and means, as respects France and England, are egregiously overrated by the Tory papers, who threaten England and France with her vengeance should they persist to interfere in the affairs of Holland and Spain. It may be worth while to take a cursory glance at the Czar and his dominions in order to exhibit how little England and France have to apprehend on this occount.

The Russian army may be estimated on paper at 800,000 men, but it cannot maintain beyond its frontier more than 120,000 for any length of time on the war establishment. We do not think, from all we have heard and seen, that Russia can, before a remote period, become really formidable to the west of Europe, except as an auxiliary to either Prussia or Austria; in which case the force she could send to coalesce with these powers, composed as it would be of men possessing some of the best military qualities, such as bravery, devotion, patience, docility, and a total submission of the will and body to the command of the superiors, might indeed cause the scale to preponderate.

But all the operations of Russia, as respects the west of Europe, are liable to a course of countercheck. Prussia, although allied to the Muscovite empire by marriage, and willing to avail herself of the protection of the Czars against France, cannot, in reality, be the friend of Russian aggrandizement, pushed to the extent of its ambitious views. Austria, governed at present by the same motives, has more reason to dread Russia than even Prussia; she has no frontier to protect her against the 40,000 Cossacks who could be let loose upon the plains of Hungary, and might gallop up even to the walls of Vienna, unless protected by Hungarian bosoms, aided by the soldiers of Frederick William. Austria and Prussia must, then, by every rule of policy, make a league, defensive and offensive. These two powerful kingdoms must become the barriers against French restlessness on one side, and Russian Ambition on the other.—Prussia counts 300,000 bayonets, and Austria 350,000. The Germanic body can send half as many more. These are all good troops and are concentrated, while Russia has to drag her masses from the frontiers of Asia, from the Polar regions, and from the banks of the Araxes to the borders of Silesia. Half of these men would never reach their destination. We have seen the prodigious sacrifice made by Russia to put down a revolt in Poland; an army of 150,000 veteran warriors, matched against 30,000 Polish troops, and 70,000 of indiscriminate levies. We have seen that terrible struggle prolonged from the month of February 1832 to the month of September in the same year; and Warsaw then captured only upon terms. If Poland, single handed, could contend for such a length of time with doubtful success against Russia, what has western Europe to fear from her? She has indeed conquered Poland; but what has she gained? A tomb! and the temporary subjugation of a people who always were her bitter enemy, and who now hate her with accumutated fury.

The loss sustained by the armies of the Czar, in this disastrous conflict, has been estimated at 60 or 70,000 men. Was Poland worth subjugating at such a price? Can Russia, with her scanty population, easily recover from such losses? Did Russia display much military talent and power in her campaigns against Turkey and Persia? Were not the resources of the Sultan and Shah over estimated, and the difficulties of their country exaggerated by the admirers of the Mussulmans and the depreciators of the Muscovites? and thus, when their conquest was effected, were not the triumphs too much exalted by the very parties who had before held them too cheap? The Sultan and the Shah may indeed lick the dust from the footstool of the Czar, for he is their master, but, nevertheless, if Europe be true to herself, she need not fear the Giant of the North—this bugbear which Napoleon set up to account for his own failure in his rash campaign against Moscow, and which very campaign would most propably have produced the result he proposed to himself, that of crushing this semi barbarous power, had he acted with common discretion.

It once answered the purpose of the British government to set up Alexander as the Chief of the destinies of Europe; to sing the heroic deeds of the Muscovites, and exalt their power to the utmost as a check upon France; but now our policy is altered:—let us look nearer at the Colossus, and we shall find that his head is of brass, but his feet are of clay.

As a maritime power, Russia is utterly contemptible; for the Turks, before the battle of Navarino, shut her up perpetually in the Black Sea, and the ice in the Baltic is her natural blockade for six months in the year.

Nevertheless, we did not require the recent pamphlet to show that Russia is advancing in intelligence, in wealth, and in power; but this empire, whilst it approximates towards civilization, must some day split into many parts, and with its integrity will vanish the dread of its power. But we are mistaken if we think Russia has the resources for any prolonged contest either in the east or the west.

The present commercial system of Russia is bad in the extreme. She raises her revenue, with all but one exception, from the most objectionable funds—from a capitation tax, from heavy duties, on exports and imports, and from brandy. Now, the treasures of Russia, which are mineral and agricultural, are nothing worth, without a reciprocal system of trade with other nations, and more particularly with England, whose capital Russia wants to enable her to work even her own mines to advantage, and to send forth their treasures to the world by means of navigable canals and passable roads. The Russian sovereigns and ministers are mere soldiers, and know nothing of finance or of commerce. They occupy themselves with making soldiers instead of merchants, and without the latter, no country can become either powerful or civilized. Nevertheless, now and then a faint gleam of light flashes across the view of the Czar; he would perhaps, fain follow it up, but he has no minister to second him, no enlightened counsellor to advise him. Look at his late cunduct as respects tallow and hemp, and his arbitrary exactions on British shipping, of which we gave an account this week in a letter from Hull. His minister of finance is a major of brigade, and his counsellors are generals! What can be expected from such a system? After all, what has the military system done for Russia? What have her armies, powerful as they are, effected? They were mismanaged and beaten in the first campaign in Bulgaria, and their victorious eagles of the second campaign grew pale and turned back at Adrianople, upon the sight of a despatch from Sir Pulteney Malcolm, when they had their prize in view, and almost within their grasp.

They took Varna in three months, which they should have taken in three weeks; they failed once before Silistria, and never ventured to attack either Giurgivo or Shumla. But they lost 100,000 men; and gained some diamonds, a few shawls, some little renown, and many hard blows.

The Persian and Turkish campaigns cost the empire 300,000,000 roubles and 200,000 soldiers; and this in a country with small revenue, and smaller population, as compared with its extent. Again, but we will not repeat particulars, they were nine months in subduing the revolt in Poland, though the whole strength of Russia was planted at the gates of Warsaw. Are we not right, therefore, in saying that the resources of this power are egregiously magnified by the Tory newspapers, and that the west of Europe has little to apprehend from her,—even if England and France were out of the question?

Extract of a letter from London, dated October 22d:—

"Extracts from Colonel Stone's book on Masonry are filling our papers, and creating a strong sensation among the craft in England. The work is very interesting to the reader on this side of the Atlantic, and is very eagerly sought for.

"Mr. Sandry, the celebrated silver smith, was yesterday tried and acquitted of having forged the Goldsmith's Hall mark upon some spoons and forks. Mr. S. is a person of great wealth and respectability. Sir James Scarlett received a fee of 150*l.* for conducting the defence.

"The House of Baring & Brothers are embarking largely in the China trade. I mention the circumstance principally because they have adopted your mode of getting rid of the consumption of spirituous liquors during the voyage. Coffee is to be the only liquor, if so it may be called, which will be allowed to be drank. Their vessels are to be built in a peculiar way, to be more easy of management, require fewer hands, and to carry more teas than the Company's ships. Each ship will cost 80,000 dollars."

Great preparations are making at Constantinople for the marriage of the Sultana Salyha, eldest daughter of the Sultan, now twenty two years old, to Halil Pacha, one of the Imperial favorites.—The bridegroom elect was originally a slave; but having taken the fancy of the Seraskier Pacha, was afterwards his adopted son; and, being presented to the Sultan, became a Pacha, Ambassador to St. Petersburgh, and is now Master of the Ordnance. He was last year Capudan Pacha, or Lord Admiral, when his cowardice and incapacity prevented the capture of a great part of the Egyptian fleet.—It is a dangerous honor to be the husband of any branch of the Sultan's family; for if the lady become dissatisfied she can soon procure a new one, or the removal of the head of the first.

There are odd descriptions given of the courtship, such as the lady's drawing her dagger, and threatening her wooer for his insolence in asking the hand of a descendant of the Prophet, when she is to be appeased by the presentation of a hatti scheriff of the Sultan warranting the act. However, on all further occasions, he must carry her slippers, and ask her leave to enter the room where she sits, and obtain her permission to sit down, and he must creep into the nuptial bed from the foot. He is to have no other wife in her palace; all preceding ones are divorced, and all concubines are dismissed prior to the marriage. A place is now preparing on the Bosphorus for the 'happy pair,' where they are to live one month together, and then the husband is to go to a distant employment, and the lady becomes emancipated from father and husband at once.

To prevent Beer from becoming acetous.—There is a way of preventing beer from getting acetous, or what is called hard, which is as simple as it is efficacious. Reasoning on the plain principles of chemical science, we were led to try it, and have this summer found its truth and advantage. It is nothing more than to suspend a knob of marble by a piece of tape from the bung hole to near the bottom of the barrel, upon which, being pure carbonate of lime, the acid quality of the beer acts on its incipient formation; it consequently becomes neutralised, and thus is kept from turning hard or sour. In our experiment the marble was considerably eaten away, except where the tape encircled it, and the beer remained sound and fresh to the last drop.—We mention this discovery as being a point of some consequence to householders, and especially to farmers and their laborers in harvest time; for it is more likely that weak beer should become sour than strong; it is much more healthy to drink if fresh than ever so little turned, and, in the way of economy, many barrels might be saved, which are every year thrown into the hog tub from becoming undrinkable. It will do good, however, to every species of beer, and, we expect, to any kind of home made or even foreign wines in cask, which have or are likely to become tart or sour.—Oxford Journal.

This horror of nullification and State rights doctrines, is altogether a new thing in the mass of the people. It was the doctrine of the whole Jackson party two years ago. They approved and defended it; and no man could be a good democrat until he asented to its principles.—Tel.

Exactly. But when the Jackson party found that the country could not get along with such doctrines, and prudently repudated them, it is not for us to complain. We rather rejoice that they saw the error of their ways in time to save us from civil war and Gen. Hamilton, from "going to the death of his sugar."—Alex. Gaz.

PORTAGE RAIL ROAD.

According to the expectation expressed in our last, we have now the pleasure of communicating to our readers the intelligence that the Portage Rail Road bas been traversed over its whole course.

On Tuesday last, two Cars, one of them a new one, built at Pittsburgh, and intended for a lumber Car, left the basin at Conemaugh, and arrived at the summit. They had on board Messrs. White, Waln, Hoopes, and Atwood, four of the Philadelphia Delegates to the late Warren convention, the Superintendent, Engineers, and a number of the Contractors and Citizens. They arrived at the Summit in the afternoon and were greeted by the cheers of a number of the citizens of Hollidaysburg, who had arrived in Cars from that place, and a number of the citizens of this County, who had convened to view the interesting spectacle.—After partaking of a sumptuous dinner, prepared by Mr. Denlinger, in his large and commodious house at the intersection of the Turnpike and Rail Road, the Passengers proceeded in the Cars to Hollidaysburg, where, we are happy to hear, they arrived safely.

Thus, in little more than two years from its commencement, has this great and important work been so far completed as to admit the passage of Cars. The Engines at the heads of the planes are now being erected; and, when the Canal trade opens in the spring, the Rail Road will be ready to receive it. The Superintendent, Engineers, and Contractors, deserve great praise for their zeal and industry in prosecuting this work under many disadvantages, and many disappointments. The execution of the work is equal to any improvement of the kind in the United States.

When an attempt was made, seventeen years ago, to extend a Turnpike road over the Alleghenny Mountain, it was considered by many as a wild and visionary scheme, and as one that could never be completed. The managers of the work, however, persevered, and a good and substantial road was made. When the idea of constructing a Rail Road over the same mountain, at an elevation of 1,400 feet above the head of Canal navigation, was suggested a few years since, those who knew not what money, skill, and industry can do, considered it the waking dream of a heated imagination. Its practicability has now been made manifest to all, and its utility will soon be felt by the surrounding country, and the state generally.—Ebensburgh Sky, Nov. 28.

The Philadelphia Delegates on their arrival at Hollidaysburg, published in the Aurora, the following

CARD.

The Gentlemen composing the Philadelphia delegation to the Ohio Convention, in returning home through their own state, cannot leave Hollidayburg without expressing their thanks to the Engineers and Superintendent of the Portage Rail Road, for the great pleasure they have derived, on their transportation across the line in a Rail Road Car, and for the courtesy and attention they have received.—The workmanship is of the most masterly character, and they congratulate their fellow citizens on the completion of a work of such important and extensive utility.

Hollidaysburg, Nov. 26, 1833.

Francis Aretine, a celebrated teacher of Laws at Ferrara, in Italy, once resorted to a singular mode to convince his students of what consequence it is to be reputed an honest man. He went to the butcher's shambles before day, and with the assistance of his servant, broke open their shops, and stole a quantity of meat. Two of his students, who were known to be mischievous, were suspected, accused, and imprisoned. Upon this, Aretine pled their cause before the judges—and finally confessed that he was the guilty person, and insisted on the discharge of the prisoners. But the more he insisted on this, the more the Judges were convinced of the guilt of his students—for no one dared to suspect a law professor of such a crime, whose gravity, wisdom, and honesty were so well known. And it was long before Aretine could succeed in convincing the Judges that he committed the act for the purpose of showing the advantages of a good, and the disadvantages of a bad, reputation.—Lowell Journal.

Compromise.—A writer in the Richmond Whig, under the signature of "A Farmer,"—said to be one of the most distinguished men of that state—makes a proposition, striking the middle ground, in relation to the Bank of the United States. He says—what will, no doubt, prove very true—that if the Bank should be compelled to wind up its affairs in four years, the effect will be to withdraw, in that period, about 100 millions from circulation; and this being at the rate of 25 millions a year, CANNOT be paid into the Bank, by its debtors, without producing serious distress upon the community. Now, without being a friend to the Bank, but merely to subserve public convenience, he suggests that the charter be renewed or extended for four or five years—so that the Bank may be enabled to make its collections more gradually, and consequently more tolerable to those who have to pay the money. An extension to that effect, might allow the Bank time enough to "wind up" by calling in its outstanding debts at the rate of 8 or 10 millions a year, instead of twenty five millions. The proposition may be worthy of attention—especially of those "people's men," who have such a holy horror of this "aristocratic" institution, as to be ready to second the interested enmity of the Kitchen, and demolish the Bank in stanter.—Balt. Patriot.

Rail Road from Philadelphia to York, (Pa.)—We observe by the York papers that a public meeting was called in that borough for Thursday evening, to take measures for procuring the extension of the Philadelphia and Columbia Rail Road to that place. The Lancaster Examiner, in noticing the subject, says—such an extension, we have no doubt, will be made without much delay.

From other sources, we learn, that the rail road from Philadelphia to Columbia, is expected to be completed and in operation, sometime during the coming winter. When it shall be extended to York, if not before, it strikes us as constituting a subject that ought to be deemed of some interest to the people of Baltimore. At present, and for many years past, the agricultural products of York county, have been taken to the Baltimore market. Will it not be otherwise, when the Rail Road from Philadelphia is completed to York?—unless the Baltimore Rail Road be extended to that town?—When it was turnpike against turnpike, the Baltimore market had nothing to fear, in regaad to the competition for the traffic of this fruitful country;—but when we have only a turnpike to oppose to a RAIL ROAD, it is such a change of the condition of things as may hazard the loss of a good portion of the traffic. At all events, the suject deserves consideration, to see if there be a remedy.—Balt. Pat.

The Finances of the State of Georgia, as reported by the State Treasurer, appear to be in a very unsatisfactory condition. The balance in the Treasury on the 31st of October, was only about $21,000, and the amount of taxes for the year, receivable, is not more than $40,000, which sums together will not more than pay the expenses of the current session of the legislature, leaving the means for all other expenditures and appropriations to be provided for, in some extraordinary way. Recourse, it is stated, will be had to the Central Bank, a State Institution, for funds to carry on the civil establishments of the State.—Balt. Amer.

Extracts from the Review of the Baltimore Market for the week ending Friday evening, Nov. 29.

COFFEE—We find the market quiet and inactive. About 500 bags new crop have been taken in lots by the trade, at 12 3-4 a 13 cts.; and from 400 to 500 bags old crop, at 12 cts. Limited lots of good St. Domingo have been taken at 12¼ cts., and 100 bags inferior at 11 1-2 cts.

FLOUR—Howard street Flour—Sales of moderate parcels from stores at $5 81¼, $5 85, and $5 87 1-2. The latter rate is generally demanded by holders to day. The generally prevailing wagon rate has been $5 75; there have been occasional variations for a few loads, but they do not seem to affect the uniformity of the price mentioned. Sales of "Fine" from stores at $5 50.

CLOVER SEED—The market is quiet, and prices without change. The wagon rates range from $5 to $5 25 per bushel, and store rates from $5 25 to $5 50.

MOLASSES—Sales of Sugarhouse at 43 cents, in tierces.

SUGARS—The market is inactive. Limited sales of New Orleans, at auction, at $7 50; and Porto Rico at $7 a $9 15. By private contract, limited sales of Porto Rico at $9 25 a $9 50. A parcel of Brazil box was taken for export at $5 50, short price.

TOBACCO—There is but little animation in the Tobacco market, though purchasers evince a disposition to buy, if the stock were sufficiently large to supply the requisite varieties. We are advised of sales of about 150 hhds. Maryland at $4 a $5, for common crop; $6 a $8 50 for good reds; and $6 a $8 50 for Ground Leaf. The transactions in Ohio are confined to very limited parcels at former rates. The inspections of the week comprize 334 hhds. Maryland; 31 hhds. Ohio; and 22 hhds. Virginia—total 387 hhds.

WHISKEY—There appears to be but little doing in hhds. the sales of which have been made thro'out the week at 28 cts., on 60 and occasionally 90 days' credit, without interest. The same rates prevail to day. The wagon price of bbls. is 25 a 26 cts.; and the sales from store, dull, at 29 1-2 a 30 cts. The inspections of the week comprize 321 hhds. and 1,027 bbls.; of which 312 hhds. and 30 bbls. were seceived from the Susquehanna.

WAGON FREIGHTS—Remain as last noted, viz: $1 75 per 100 lbs. to Wheeling, and $1 50 to Pittsburgh.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Frankiin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

Nov. 8, 1833. MOSES ATWOOD.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
	other lots, containing about		6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county---and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others--- a soil rich and productive---the neighborhood abounding in coal---well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

WILSON & SMITH, from N. York,

RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Pittsburgh and the neighboring towns, that they have commenced the manufacture of the above beautiful and elegant article, so much admired and worn throughout Europe, and the principal cities in the United States.

W. & S. beg leave to observe, that, after various experiments, they have at last succeeded in bringing this Hat to the highest state of perfection, and they can assert, with confidence, that in point of color, lightness, elasticity, durability, and general beauty of appearance, they cannot be surpassed by the most expensive Hat that is made. Gentlemen are invited to call and examine them, and judge for themselves.

Wholesale Dealers supplied at the same prices as in the New York markets.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints. Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving t emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Heron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.
